The first thing you will do when entering the system is go through the various links to familiarize yourself with the system and how each section functions.

I will break down each function now starting with:

SEND/REQUEST:

This is where internal users send and request funds. You can only use function with other Imani Users that have active verified accounts. Basically if you have GOX/USD in your account, you can send these currencies to other active users for whatever purpose that is business or personally related and also receive these currencies from active users for those very purposes.

The Disputes and tickets section should be self explanatory. If you have a question or problem just simply open a new ticket and we will respond within 24 hours.

TRANSFER:

This function is where you add funds to your account. Once you transfer/deposit, you automatically receive a credit for the amount transferred/deposited. Within our system there are 2 options for making a transfer/deposit - Paypal and crypto asset deposits.

To use paypal you simply click on the paypal dropdown link and enter your debit/credit card information for the amount you are looking to transfer/deposit.

If you are transferring using the asset deposit feature it becomes a little more technical, but i will explain so it becomes clear.

First of all you will need to download another crypto wallet like lobstr or Solar for storing your crypto assets. Just go to google play store and do a search and you will find either of these apps for download.

Once you have downloaded either of these apps you will then transfer your tokens to the wallet associated with either of these apps. I know you may wondering - What Tokens? Well each account holder with Imani that has valuation within their company will have tokens minted based on their companies valuation.

So now that you understand that lets continue. So once you have applied your tokens to your lobstr or solar wallet, you will then go to transfer on the Imani systems and select ASSET DEPOSIT. You will enter the amount you are looking to deposit - For example if you are looking to receive a credit line from us for $1,000,000.00, you enter that amount where it says AMOUNT. You will then select GOX instead of USD, and then click next. You will see a screen like this:
